REPORT OF SCHOOL BOARD.

Another school year has been completed, and it remains for the School Board to report the quality of the work accomplished. The teachers have all appeared interested in their duties, and have labored with commendable zeal and faithfulness to instruct the pupils under their charge, and we find on summing up the work accomplished during the past year, that a good degree of improvement has been the result. The attendance at school has been very good in most cases. Of course there has been a few exceptions, as it always is bound to be so, no matter how hard we try to have it otherwise. We believe that a great responsibility rests upon the parents. If they allow their children to go at will during school hours, perhaps attending one day and staying out two or three, and so on year after year, they ought not to complain if their boys and girls do not keep up with their neighbors' children who attend school every day. We sometimes hear it said "my children do not learn as I would like to have them"; and on sifting the matter down, we find it is usually those children who do not attend regularly and those whom we often see on the street during school hours, while many others will be found in their places within the school room, with book in hand, working hard to solve those difficult problems which will be useful to them in after years in their intercourse through the world at large, and they are the ones that will succeed. And now the advice we wish to give the fathers and mothers: Keep your children at school as long as you can; you may not be able to give them anything but an education, but remember it will be far better than riches without it. In fact, a young man or a young woman is indeed rich who has attained a liberal education; for in these busy times there is many calls for all such in places of trust and responsibility, and we want to see the young people from this town placed in the front rank in the grand rush of progress; and there is no reason why they cannot be found there, for there are many bright boys and girls in this town, and with as good school privileges as any town of its size can boast of, with all necessary material furnished, if the young do not reach the high elevation in which it is their privilege, it seems to us as though the parents and not the children are alone to blame. We were very much gratified in witnessing the closing examination of the several schools, to see the advancement which had been made.

Now, in closing, we will say to the young, press on, fit yourselves for the duties of life, for you will soon be called on to take the place of fathers and mothers in conducting the affairs which will devolve upon you.
